

Sophia Marangi

Aspiring Teacher | College Student | Teaching Credential Program Applicant

Dynamic and passionate aspiring teacher with a strong foundation in educational principles and classroom management. I'm committed to helping students achieve their full potential through fostering a positive and engaging learning environment.

Summary Of Qualifications

- Skilled in designing and executing effective lesson plans aligned with educational standards
- Ability to use technological tools to enhance student learning and communicate with parents
- Experienced writer who can communicate effectively for the needs of the audience
- Proficient in Google Docs, Slides, Microsoft Excel, HTML, and Adobe Illustrator

Education

Current Student at University of California, San Diego

June 2025

Bachelor of Arts in History and a Minor in Education Studies

Experience

Mentor

The University of California, San Diego, Partners at Learning Program

- Worked under a credentialed teacher to assist students in an underserved community
- Gained over forty hours of experience working with different grade levels to maximize their learning potential
- Co-existed with award-winning teachers who teach students in welcoming and diverse learning environments

Mentor

The University of California, San Diego, Mentor Collective

- Provided one-on-one academic support to first-year students to aid them in adjusting to college
- Tailored strategies and resources to meet the unique needs of each mentee
- Advised students on academic pathways and career opportunities through clubs and organizations

Head of Outreach and Social Media

The University of California, San Diego, Undergraduate History Network

- Collaborated with History professors and students in a professional organization
- Created digital art and advertisement campaigns to promote meetings and events
- Gained writing and communication skills through public speaking and managing all social media accounts

Awards and Honors

- Provost Honors, University of California, San Diego
- California Scholarship Federation, the highest honors
- National Honors Society

